PRODUCT PRICING STANDARD

Seller-offer pricing rules for purchasing, budget matching and Final Four presentation

1. Purpose

This standard defines how commercial product pricing is stored and used in AIDOOi. Pricing is seller-specific and therefore belongs to the Seller Offer record (AIO), not to the canonical Product record (AID).

2. Core Pricing Fields

Field	Requirement	Definition
Final Price	Required	The actual current price at which the customer can purchase the product from that Seller Offer.
Original Price	Required when discounted	The valid price before the current discount. Leave empty when the product is not genuinely discounted.
Currency	Required	Currency of the Seller Offer, e.g. AED.
Discount Percentage	System-calculated	Calculated from Original Price and Final Price; not a primary manually entered value.

3. Final Price Is the Decision Price

Final Price is the authoritative price for AIDOOi budget matching and recommendation eligibility. If a customer has a defined budget, the recommendation engine compares that budget with Final Price, not Original Price.

4. Original Price

Original Price is stored only when there is a genuine, supportable discounted price relationship. It exists primarily to communicate the customer's saving and provide pricing context. AIDOOi must not create or inflate an Original Price merely to display a discount.

5. Discount Calculation

Discount Percentage should be calculated automatically by the system when both Original Price and Final Price are valid.

Original Price	Final Price	Calculated Discount
AED 3,700	AED 2,960	20%
AED 2,500	AED 2,000	20%
Not applicable	AED 2,000	No discount displayed

6. Seller Offer Ownership

The same canonical product may have different prices from different sellers. Each commercial price therefore belongs to its own AIO Seller Offer.

Product ID	Offer ID	Seller	Original Price	Final Price
AID-00000001	AIO-00000001	Blossom Home	AED 3,700	AED 2,960
AID-00000001	AIO-00000002	Retailer B	AED 3,250	AED 3,100
AID-00000001	AIO-00000003	Retailer C	-	AED 2,850

7. Final Four Presentation

For the four final recommendations shown to the customer, AIDOOi should always display the Final Price. When a valid discount exists, the Original Price should also be shown clearly alongside it, visually indicating that it is the pre-discount price.

Situation	Customer-Facing Display
Discounted offer	Original Price: AED 3,700 | Final Price: AED 2,960 | 20% OFF
No discount	Final Price: AED 2,960

8. Currency

Currency is mandatory for every Seller Offer. AIDOOi must never assume a currency from the numeric price alone. For the UAE MVP, AED will normally be used, while the data structure should remain capable of supporting additional currencies in future markets.

9. Price Range Is Not Product Pricing Data

Budget ranges, recommendation price bands and tolerance logic are not stored as Product or Offer pricing fields under this standard. They belong to a separate Budget & Recommendation Logic standard. AID-DATA-010 records the actual commercial price of an Offer.

10. Variable / From Pricing

For the MVP, each selectable Product Variant / Seller Offer should have a specific Final Price wherever possible. Generic values such as 'From AED X' or broad price ranges should not replace a confirmed purchasable Final Price. If future configurable products genuinely require variable pricing, they should be handled by a dedicated pricing extension.

11. Price Validation Rules

Rule	Standard
Final Price	Must represent the current purchasable price for that specific Seller Offer.
Original Price	Use only when a genuine pre-discount price exists.
Discount	Calculate automatically; do not rely on manually typed percentage labels.
Original vs Final	When discounted, Original Price must be greater than Final Price.
Currency	Always store explicitly.
Seller-specific pricing	Never copy one seller's price onto another seller's AIO Offer.
Unverified price	Do not present an unverified or inferred amount as a confirmed Final Price.

12. Example - AIDOOi Test Lounge Chair

Field	Value / Treatment
Seller	Blossom Home
Seller SKU	RASO_D-6604
Original Price	AED 3,700 - if confirmed as the valid pre-discount price
Final Price	AED 2,960 - only if confirmed as the actual purchasable price
Discount Percentage	20% - system-calculated after both prices are confirmed

A displayed '20% off' sticker mathematically implies AED 2,960 from AED 3,700, but AIDOOi must not treat the calculated amount as a confirmed Final Price until the actual selling price is verified.

13. AI and Recommendation Rule

Final Price is the pricing input used by AIDOOi for budget matching, ranking and affordability logic. Original Price and calculated discount can contribute to value presentation, but they must not make an otherwise over-budget product appear to fit the customer's budget.

14. Final Standard

Final Price: required and used for purchasing + budget matching.
Original Price: required only when a genuine discount exists.
Currency: required.
Discount %: system-calculated.
Final Four: always show Final Price; show Original Price as well when discounted.
Price ranges: handled separately under Budget & Recommendation Logic.
Record ownership: all commercial pricing belongs to AIO Seller Offer.
